

PROFILE SUMMARY

Analytically driven professional who structures problems, interprets data to generate insights and supports evidence-based decisions in financial services.

INTERNSHIP

Treasury Equity Intern, IDBI Treasury Apr 2026 – Jun 2026

- Researched 15 listed companies in the nuclear energy value chain, working through scattered company, regulatory and order book data, then wrote and presented a sector thesis with a recommendation on each name to the treasury desk
- Built a rule-based risk screen for all 15 companies on Altman Z-score, Beneish M-score and interest coverage, so balance sheet stress and accounting anomalies surfaced before a name reached the recommendation set
- Tested each name on P/E, EV/EBITDA and P/B against its 3-year average, counting it as mispriced only when 2 of the 3 agreed, then ran a 5-condition veto screen on governance, promoter pledge and audit quality
- Designed a 7-dimension weighted scoring model on technology, policy exposure, valuation, management and order book quality, which sorted all 15 companies into 4 conviction bands for the desk

ACADEMIC PROJECTS

- Built a survival classifier on the Kaggle Titanic dataset, moving from EDA to Decision Tree, Support Vector Machine and Logistic Regression base models, then a Voting Classifier and a stacking ensemble with a meta-learner, and tuned one base model's hyperparameters
- Developed a blockchain prototype for the FinTech course that makes disaster relief funds traceable, so each use of the money can be tracked and donors and beneficiaries can trust the process
- Modelled post-COVID household income by region, education level and occupation with regression and clustering, then used hypothesis testing to check which drivers held up and which segments recovered fastest
- Analysed Bajaj Auto's financial performance and margin quality through ratio analysis, DuPont decomposition and horizontal/vertical statement review, and benchmarked returns, leverage and operating efficiency against 5 auto peers
